To whom it may concern:

I have been investing with Bruce Galloway and Galloway Capital Partners, LLC for many years. Since April 2020, in partnership with my family office, they have managed a pool of my capital with extraordinary returns of 720% through December 2024. In my opinion, Mr. Galloway is probably the best performing Value investor on Wall Street.

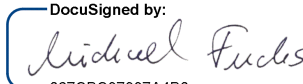

RFR

Mr. Galloway is a highly skilled and principled Value investor with a proven track record of identifying and capitalizing on investment opportunities. I have consistently been impressed with his deep understanding of value investing principles, fundamental analysis, and his steadfast dedication to achieving long-term investment success. He and his team consistently demonstrate an ability to identify undervalued companies with significant growth potential. They conduct thorough research, examine industry trends and competitive landscapes to uncover opportunities that others often overlook. This disciplined approach ensures that investment decisions are grounded in solid data and rational evaluation rather than market speculation or short-term trends.

One of Mr. Galloway's most remarkable qualities is his patience and commitment to the intrinsic value philosophy. He understands that successful value investing requires a long-term perspective and the fortitude to hold investments until their true value is realized. This patience has been rewarded time and again.

I highly recommend Bruce Galloway and will continue to invest with him and Galloway Capital Partners.

Sincerely,
